

Michael Best Again Ranks Among Top IP Litigation Firms in the Nation

For the sixth consecutive year, Michael Best's Intellectual Property Litigation Group is ranked among the most prestigious firms in the country. According to the August/September 2009 edition of IP Law & Business, Michael Best ranks 25th in the nation for patent litigation in terms of the number of District Court cases filed in 2008.

About Our Intellectual Property Litigation Practice

In response to the critical strategic importance of intellectual property assets, Michael Best has developed one of the largest groups of intellectual property litigators in the Midwest. This team has successfully litigated major patent, trademark, internet, false advertising, copyright, trade secret and rights of publicity and privacy cases in federal and appellate courts in almost every circuit in the country, the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals and the International Trade Commission.
