Insider Trading—What is Prohibited?

12th Annual National Institute on Securities Fraud
Partner Brad Jacobsen was a panelist for the session “Insider Trading—What is Prohibited?” at the 12th Annual National Institute on Securities Fraud on January 11, 2018.

The discussion focused on insider trading liability –what the rules of the road are now, how remote can the enforcers go, rules for the general public vs. political types, and whether the SEC will actually prosecute people on Capitol Hill for insider trading.
