Practical & Legal Considerations for Employers Combatting The Coronavirus

On January 30, the International Health Regulations Emergency Committee of the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 outbreak a “public health emergency of international concern.” COVID-19, commonly known as coronavirus, has been detected in 60 locations worldwide, including the United States. This webinar will discuss practical and legal considerations U.S. employers should take into account when preparing to address the impact of the coronavirus in the workplace. Attorneys Ashley Felton, Dan Kaufman, and Kirk Pelikan will review compliance with various laws, including disability, family and medical leave laws, and address employee relations and communication strategies.
