

Aleksandra N. Baker *

Intellectual Property Assistant Translator

 Not admitted to practice law*

Overview

Aleksandra supports the firm's U.S. and international clientele with intellectual property and other legal matters. She is a seasoned translator and has experience translating English into Japanese and Japanese into English, allowing for ease of communication across for businesses working with the firm on both sides of the Pacific.

In addition to her translation services, Aleksandra provides guidance to help companies navigate the complex processes of obtaining IP protection in the U.S. and in jurisdictions around the globe. Before joining Michael Best, Aleksandra worked for a Washington, D.C.-based international IP boutique as a document translator.

Aleksandra speaks and writes fluently in both Japanese and Korean.
