Overview

Alex is a Principal with Michael Best Strategies. He helps clients build strategic relationships with policy makers in order to influence favorable outcomes.

Prior to joining the Strategies team, Alex served in the White House Office of Legal Affairs as Special Assistant to President Donald J. Trump. Alex worked as a direct liaison between the President and the House of Representatives, facilitating policy discussion on proposed legislation and connecting members of Congress with Administration personnel. In his previous role on the Presidential Transition Team, Alex supported incoming Chief of Staff Reince Priebus by providing key logistical and communications assistance, including briefing the the incoming Chief of Staff before interviews and media opportunities.

Before the 2016 Presidential election, Alex was Special Assistant to the Chairman of the Republican National Committee. During this time he accompanied the Chairman to political and fundraising events across the nation and managed his daily schedule. Earlier in his career, Alex interned in the U.S. House of Representatives for the Energy and Commerce Committee.
