

Charles P. Stevens

Partner

Overview

A persuasive advocate, Charlie vigorously defends employers and benefit plans in courts and other forums. He excels at assessing and fixing problems that arise with employee benefit programs and providing a strategically driven approach to benefits compliance and risk management planning.

As exclusive employee benefits counsel to many nationwide employers, Charlie's practice focus extends to:

- Counseling on Affordable Care Act (ACA) compliance and strategic planning, particularly with respect to contingent workers
- Advising associations on the establishment of Association Health Plans
- Advising and defending employers regarding multiemployer pension plan claims, including withdrawal liability and contribution claims
- Litigating and favorably resolving large retiree health class actions, including arguments before the U.S. Court of Appeals
- Assisting employers with legal issues associated with establishing on-site clinics and wellness programs
- Providing analysis and advice to employers concerning new employee benefit legislation and regulations
- Representing numerous employers in state and federal courts, courts of appeals, and other forums
- Providing consultation and advice to employers pertaining to benefits issues associated with collective bargaining, insurance practices, employer policies, and applicable laws
- Advising and defending employers on Americans with Disabilities Act and Family and Medical Leave Act matters

Charlie has written and spoken extensively on benefits-related topics ranging from the ACA and the legal environment of wellness programs to the Family and Medical Leave Act.

Charlie is an active member of the Employee Benefits Committee of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and works with Chamber staff in providing comments to federal agencies on current and proposed employee benefits law.

Charlie's work is regularly honored by regional and national ranking organizations, such as Chambers USA, which named him a "Leader in the Field," and The Best Lawyers in America.

Experience

Notable examples of Charlie's work include:

- Providing a health plan redraft and strategic planning advice to a manufacturing client who sought an affordable solution that did not require payment of ACA penalties.
- Representing a large dairy cooperative client in challenging a large assessment of multiemployer withdrawal liability through arbitration. Charlie obtained a very favorable settlement for his client.
- Identifying and recommending strategies to address multiemployer withdrawal liability risks. Through Charlie's advice, a client was able to modify certain employment structures to avoid a substantial liability assessment.
- Successfully advising a private equity client whose purchase of an electrical contracting firm was threatened by obligations associated with union pension liabilities that would have transferred to the buyer.
- Assisting a consortium of six Wisconsin technical colleges in creating a self-funded multiple employer health plan. As a result, Wisconsin statutes were changed to permit joint self-funding of health coverage for technical colleges.
