

Chip W. Englander *

Senior Advisor
Michael Best Strategies LLC

 Not admitted to practice law*

Overview

Chip draws on his extensive experience as an advocate for industries across Illinois and the United States, and as an advisor on state and national political election campaigns, to advise clients on issues relating to public policy, government relations, and fostering productive relationships with federal, state and local governments.

“Chip Englander has a track record. He wins,” according to the Leadership Institute, which honored Chip with the 2015 Conservative Leader Award. Chip puts his extensive experience in the political arena and as an advisor to Fortune 500 companies to work helping Michael Best Strategies’ clients navigate complex public relations and government relations problems, achieve their goals and advance their interests.

Prior to joining Michael Best Strategies, Chip served as campaign manager for Illinois Governor Bruce Rauner, overseeing 83 offices, more than 700 paid workers and more than 10,000 volunteers. He subsequently served as Senior Advisor on Governor Rauner’s Transition Committee.

In addition to managing Governor Rauner’s campaign, Chip has also advised several United States senators, including Florida Senator Marco Rubio and Kentucky Senator Rand Paul. In addition, Chip has a deep background in polling and modeling, using up-to-the-minute technologies to promote campaign and corporate interests. He has conducted polling surveys for former California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger and former New York Governor George Pataki. He has also worked in public affairs, helping companies navigate complex public relations and government relations issues.

Chip is regularly interviewed by national print and broadcast media, including CNN, MSNBC, The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, The Washington Post, Chicago Tribune and Los Angeles Times.
