

Jill B. Lubetsky

Senior Counsel

Overview

Jill serves as a strategic partner to clients on labor and employment matters. With clients' long-term business goals in mind, Jill's proactive and collaborative approach focuses on:

- Employment discrimination, including disparate treatment, disparate impact, retaliation, and harassment
- Employee performance, conduct and discipline, and leave issues
- Labor-management relations, including collective bargaining agreement interpretation and application, unfair labor practices, and employee grievances
- Litigation, mediation, alternative dispute resolution, and litigation avoidance strategies

Jill's practice is uniquely informed by her previous experience in the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Office of Chief Counsel. As a senior attorney, she advised and counseled the IRS on labor and employment-related matters and represented the IRS in arbitration and litigation proceedings before the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission (EEOC), Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB), and the Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA).
