

Regulatory Law

Often, the solutions to our clients' issues lie in their ability to help shape public policy — and to see that it is properly implemented into law.

Michael Best's Regulatory Law team members are highly experienced public servants and lawyers who understand the complexities of a dynamic regulatory and legislative environment. Leveraging our wealth of knowledge and experience, we offer our corporate and nonprofit clients comprehensive, strategic counsel on all facets of local, state, and federal legislative and regulatory processes. We regularly represent our clients' interests before regulatory and legislative bodies.

Local governments also face complex legal issues as they work to serve the needs of their constituents. We have considerable experience — and success — in representing the diverse interests of local entities, from municipalities, school districts, technical colleges, and quasi-governmental entities to local agencies. Among other issues, we help our governmental clients comply with public records and open meeting laws. Our wide-ranging experience also includes land use regulation, government relations, tax law, and administrative law.
